Smart Grocery

By Bilal Naseer, Umar Khan, and Daniyal Khan

Application Overview

Essentially, this application is designed to browse through many different recipes, and see the set ingredients and instructions per recipe, and have recipes recommended to them based on the virtual pantry. The user will have virtual pantry, in which they can update accordingly, to see what items are available or are needed in order to prepare their meal. If any items are missing, the user will be linked to a supermarket of their choice.

Purpose

This application is great for the purpose of meal prepping & exploring recipes to cook. Often times, it can get tedious trying to remember what ingredients you have available, which is why we have created a virtual pantry.
